assorted by one prominently identified with racing that it is the intention to reame the sport at Belmont park either on Decoration day or a few days earlier. That the owners had important matters to talk over was evident by the mysterious air that permeated the Jockey club sanctum. Before the magnates arrived it was emphatically denied that a meeting was to be held. When it was over the conference were as loguacious as clams. There were present August Belmont, representing Belmont park, James Butter, the owner of the Empire City course; Phil liwer, their stockholder in Gravesend and Aqueduct, and W. A. Engelman, who controls the Brighton courses. Saratoga was represented by Secretary Earlocher and Victor Schaumberg of Sheepshead buy acted for his association. While the officials rejused to reveal the slightest details of the conference, the probabilities are that whatever plans stranged were of a tentative order.

Regarding to the opening of Belmont park previous to Decoration day, the argument of fered was that the public would know just where the sport stood before the holding. Then if everything west along smoothly a good-sted crowd could be expected to viett the Newmarket of America on that occasion.

The secret of their success this year, according to reports from Denver, lies in the fact that they have a large number of men any one of whom can rush into the game and relieve a man without weakening the team. There are two teams at the school which are of about equal strength, and both of these will come to Sait Lake.

Coach Bennion resterday received a siter from a Colorado basketball fan who has watched Boulder all season. He says the Boulder men play woefully rough easier from a Colorado basketball full they are that it will be necessary to have over-tochnical officials or the local team can look for a duplication of the "triple B" incident, in which Bennion's men were literally roughed off the fluor. Bennion discounts this, though, as the two schools are on the friendlest of footing and neither expects anything unfair or unsportsmanilke from the other.

Members of the basketball team who also played football were interested to learn that John Donovan the famous Boulder halback, who won a place on the Al-Rocky Mountain football team, is a member of the regular basketball team, playing at guard.

Paul Dunn, who plays forward, is reported to be marvelously fast and accurate with long shots.

This announcement was made by Marquard following the appear-ance this afternoon of the pair at the local marriage license office, where the necessary papers were taken out. The records of the pair at the license office reads:

Richard W. Marquard, 23 years old, theatrical promoter, New York: Blossom Katherine Kane, 22 years old, actress, New York:
"We decided zome time ago to be married while we were in California," deciared Marquard tonight.
"Miss Seeley formerly lived here and wanted the ceremony performed in the home of her childhood. We have made no plans for the future.
"If McGraw meets my terms I will join the Glants after my theatrical contracts have run out, in about four weeks. If he doesn't, we will probably rest for a couple of months and return to the vaudeville stage next fall."

Dick Kinaella, scout for the New York Glants, who has been here for the past ten days trying to induce Rube Marquard to join McGraw's team at Marlin Springs, today admitted he had made little progress.
"I am still hopeful, though, that Margress.

"I am still hopeful, though, that Marquard will view the matter in a different light," said he, "The Rube declares McGraw has given bim the worst of it. That is about, as everyone knows.
"Marquard's contract with the Giants is for three years, and it isn't up to McGraw to talk salary to him until it explores."
